Tickets to the event are transferable if winners are unable to attend.

Prizes are not exchangeable or redeemable for cash. Each entrant is eligible to win a maximum of one (1) prize.

7. Privacy Collection Notice

The Department is committed to handling personal information in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld) and the Queensland Privacy Principles (QPPs). QPPs requires the Department to notify individuals of certain matters when collecting personal information.

This collection notice explains how the Department manages the collection, use, disclosure and storage of personal information.

Why personal information is collected

The Department collects personal information to administer this competition, including assessing entries, contacting participants and announcing winners, as set out in these terms and conditions.

If the requested personal information is not provided, the Department may not be able to accept an entry or include an individual in the competition.

Authority for collection

Personal information is collected to enable the Department to perform its functions and activities, including administering programs and initiatives such as this competition, in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld).

Use and disclosure of personal information

Personal information will only be used and disclosed for the purposes outlined above, and as set out in these terms and conditions, unless:

- consent has been provided, or
- the use or disclosure is authorised or required by law.

As part of administering the competition:

- winners' names may be published on the Department's website and/or social media channel/s
- this may involve disclosure to third-party service providers (such as website host providers and social media platforms)

- by entering the competition, participants acknowledge and consent to the publication of their name.

The Department may also disclose personal information to contracted service providers who assist in administering the competition, including ICT and platform providers. These providers are required to handle personal information in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld).

Overseas disclosure

The Department does not intend to disclose personal information overseas. However, publication on the Department's website and social media channels/platforms may result in personal information being accessed by individuals outside Australia.

Storage and security

Personal information will be securely stored in Departmental systems and/or approved service provider systems hosted in Australia. The Department takes reasonable steps to protect personal information from loss, unauthorised access, use, or disclosure.

Further information

More information about how personal information is handled is available in the Department's Privacy Policy.

The Privacy Policy explains:

- how individuals can access personal information held by the Department
- how to seek correction of personal information if it is inaccurate, out-of-date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading
- how to make a complaint about a breach of the QPPs, and how the Department will deal with such a complaint.

Contact

For questions about this collection notice or how personal information is managed, please contact the Information Privacy team at email: privacy@dwatsipm.qld.gov.au.

8. Exclusion of Liability

To the extent permitted by law, the Department and its employees, agents and contractors are not liable for any loss or damage suffered or incurred by any person in relation to the competition including, but not limited to, consequential and indirect losses by reason of any act or omission, deliberate or negligent, by the Department, its employees, agents and contractors.

This clause does not affect, and is not intended to affect, any rights a consumer may have, which are not able to be excluded under applicable Australian consumer protection laws.

9. Verification

The Department reserves the right to:

- verify the validity of all entries
- disqualify any entrant for submitting an entry that is not in accordance with the terms and conditions, and
- accept or reject any entry in its sole discretion.

If requested by the Department participants and winners must produce, within the time requested by the Department and in its absolute discretion, appropriate identification or other documentation required by the Department to verify the participant's and winner's identity, age, eligibility to enter the competition and claim a prize and compliance with these terms and conditions.

If the items required by the Department are not received within the time period required by the Department, the participant's entries including any provisional winner's entry will be deemed invalid. The prize will only be awarded following all validation and verification requirements of the Department being met to its satisfaction.

10. Modification of Terms and Conditions

The Department reserves the right to modify, vary, extend, suspend, terminate or cancel the competition at any time, without compensation to any person.

By entering the competition, participants agree to these terms and conditions, including as amended by the Department.

The Department may amend the terms and conditions at any time until the closing date of the competition.

11. General

This competition is in no way sponsored, endorsed, administered by, or associated with Facebook or Instagram.

The Department's conduct of the competition and the provision of prizes should not be construed as expressing or implying any endorsement of any product, service, business or organisation.

The competition will be governed by the laws of Queensland.
